*The Regional Prevention Partnership Grant is advised by two stakeholder groups:
--The Evidence-Based Practices Work Group, composed of community practitioners and research and evaluation specialists, reviews evidence-based practices and determines what interventions are the best fit for Vermont communities.

--The Vermont Alcohol and Drug Abuse Council, composed of community and state partners, serves as the overall Advisory Council to the grant based on their experience across the continuum of care

Questions:

- How do you see regionally structured prevention working in your communities – what strengths and/or challenges could you identify?
- How could the structure be improved?
