

Project Lone Star

adult female adult male

Lone star ticks are more aggressive and can carry different diseases than other kinds of ticks in our state.

We think they're in Vermont.
Help us find them.

Spot

a lone star tick when outdoors or doing regular tick checks

Save

in a clean and empty crush-proof container, like an empty pill bottle

Send

with a submission form to the address at the link below

Get the form, mailing address and more at:

www.healthvermont.gov/ProjectLoneStar