

VACCINE ADJUVANT INFORMATION

Adjuvants have been safely used for decades to strengthen the immune response to certain vaccines. Three vaccines approved by the FDA and recommended by the ACIP (aIIV3-FLUAD; RZV-Shingrix; HEPLISAV-B) within the last year each contain a new adjuvant, contributing to enhanced vaccine effectiveness.

Your patients may have questions about the use and safety of adjuvants. CDC presents information that will help you to answer these questions with confidence.
