

Eugenia Cowles

Ms. Cowles graduated from Princeton University and Vanderbilt Law School where she served as the Editor-in-Chief of the Vanderbilt Law Review. Following graduation from law school, she served as a law clerk for the late Second Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Hon. Fred I. Parker in Burlington, Vermont. She then joined the Fraud Section of the Department of Justice in Washington, D.C. through the Attorney General's Honors Program. Ms. Cowles served with the Fraud Section from 2002 until 2005, when she joined the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of New Jersey in their Trenton, NJ office. In 2008, she returned to Vermont to join the criminal division of the U.S. Attorney's Office in Burlington. She has served as First Assistant U.S. Attorney since October 2014 and became Acting U.S. Attorney in February 2017 following the departure of Eric S. Miller. She will remain in her current position until a new Presidentially appointed U.S. Attorney joins the office.
