BURLINGTON – Twelve public H1N1 vaccine clinics are offered this week, including a large walk-in clinic at Burlington City Hall (Contois Auditorium) on Friday (12 p.m. to 3 p.m.) at the base of the Church Street Marketplace.

Five clinics this week will be conducted at Health Department district offices in Newport, Morrisville and Brattleboro.

The free clinics are open to anyone older than 6 months and are conducted by Vermont's Home Health Agencies and Visiting Nurse Associations and the Vermont Department of Health.

"The vaccine supply is plentiful and we'll continue to set up and offer clinics in every area of the state – as needed – to protect as many people as possible," said Health Commissioner Wendy Davis, MD.

Vaccine is also available at a variety of sites statewide, including health care provider offices, hospitals, work sites, and pharmacies.
