7. Other Business:

- Final Report of Interstate Telehealth Work Group – summary of final report and the Group's Recommendations for Legislation.

Mr. Herlihy gave a brief overview of the final report to the Legislature on telemedicine. The report recommends a period from April 1, 2022 to July of 2023 when health care professionals licensed and in good standing in other states who are currently able to practice in Vermont without obtaining will be able to continue to practice, but would need to register with the Board. The report further recommends enduring changes to the law beginning in 2023 that would require that those practicing telemedicine would need to have a credential. It also proposes adding two new levels of credential: a registration that would allow practice for only 120 days and for a maximum of only 10 patients total. Such registrations could not be renewed until 3 years after obtained. The concept is that it would allow continuity of care for health care professionals who have patients who come to Vermont temporarily or permanently. It could also benefit Vermont patients who are in need of a remote specialty consultation. The other new credential proposed is a telehealth license, which would be less expense than a regular license and with somewhat fewer requirements for licensure, but that would allow only telemedicine practice and for only a maximum of up to 20 patients. Otherwise, professionals would be required to obtain a license, either through the normal process or by using a licensing compact. Mr. Herlihy added that the group's proposal did not conflict with the Board's interests. The House Health Care and Senate Health and Welfare Committees had already begun discussing the proposal before the Board's meeting and appeared to be receptive.

- Update on the process for formal approval of the proposed revisions to the Board's Rules.

Mr. Herlihy noted the process for approval of the Rules continues. A public hearing was held, as required by law, but no one attended in person and only written comments were received. The Vermont Medical Society and the Physician Assistant Academy of Vermont submitted formal written comments. He has provided informal answers and adjustments are being made in response to all but one of their comments. The only issue remaining has to do with the Board Rules for Remote Hearings. Mr. Herlihy advised that he is working to add guidance about when hearings may be held remotely to the proposed rules. He hopes the rules will be approved at a meeting of the Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules by February.

- USMLE Quarterly Report and Annual Report for 2021. No actions are required of the Board; there will be only a brief update regarding significant changes to the USMLE taken during the past year.

Mr. Herlihy advised members that the USMLE reports contain important information about the many changes related to the examination process and how scores will be reported. As discussed at previous meetings, the Step 2 Clinical Skills examination for physicians has been permanently eliminated. In the wake of that major change there have been several minor issues regarding how scores will be reported going forward.
