

COVID-19 Know the Risks

Examples of everyday activities and level of risk.

Every situation and activity has different factors that increase or decrease risk. We can't get rid of all risk, but we can lower the risk. We can choose safer activities or make risky activities safer by getting vaccinated, wearing a mask, washing our hands, staying 6 feet away from others and staying home when we're sick. Below are some examples of activities and their general risk level.
