

What's included in the table?

The table reflects when someone with COVID-19 was at a K-12 learning community location while infectious, which means there were opportunities to spread the virus to others in the learning community.

- Cases confirmed by PCR test and probable cases.
- The infectious period is when the person with COVID-19 is contagious. It starts two days before symptoms began and continues until they are recovered. For people who haven't had symptoms, the infectious period starts two days before they had a positive test.
- Cases reported from August 23, 2021 through the date above.
- Locations include school grounds, at a school organized or sanctioned event (e.g. sporting events), or other places related to school operations (e.g. bus rides).
- Cases include members of the school community, like staff, students, faculty, bus drivers, and kitchen staff.
- These counts represent cases by school, not by individual. For example, if someone works at or attends more than one school, they will be counted under each school if it was determined through contact tracing that the person was in both locations during their infectious period.
- Vermont residents and schools physically located within Vermont.

What's not included in the table?

People in the learning community with COVID-19 who were not at school during their infectious period are NOT included. In these cases, someone may have been exposed to the virus either in or outside of school, but there would NOT have been an opportunity to spread the virus to other people in the learning community.

When is this table updated?

This table will be updated on Tuesdays with data through the previous Sunday. Data are accurate as of the date above. New information is learned through contact tracing and may change the counts as we learn more.

Contact tracing

If you are a close contact of someone with COVID-19, you will be notified and provided information and guidance on quarantine and other recommendations.

For additional guidance and resources on managing COVID-19 risk schools, visit the Schools, Colleges, and Child Care Programs web page.
