

The number of vaccines administered has improved since a low in April but in each age group there were fewer doses reported in Aug 2020 than in Aug 2019.

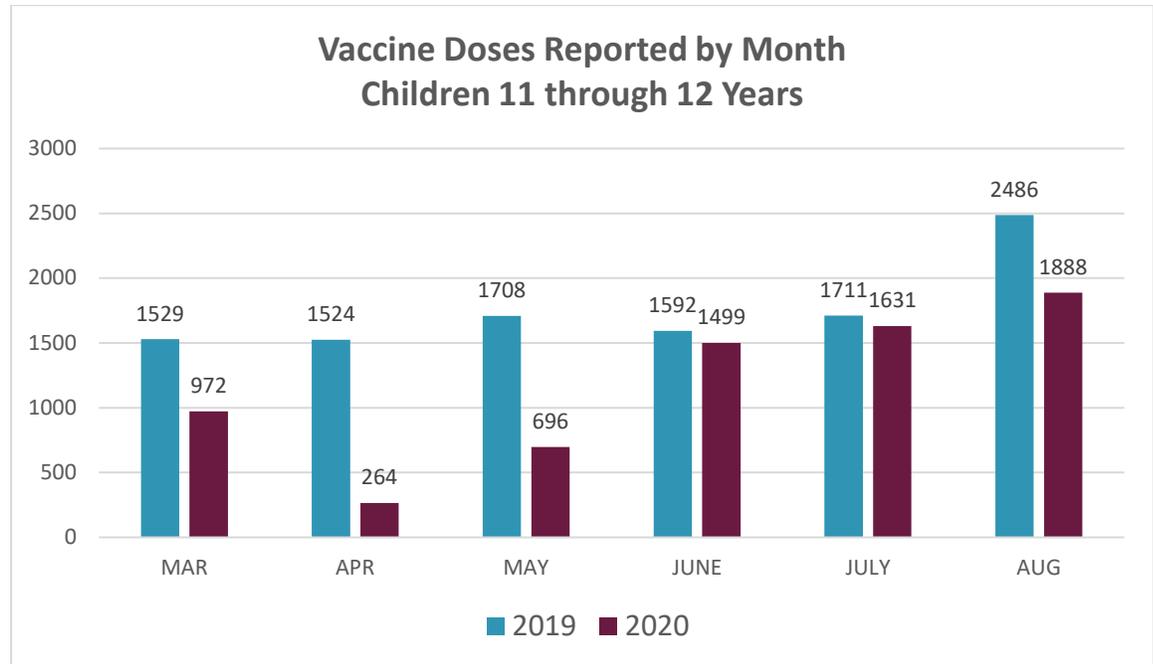

The following information from the Vermont Immunization Registry shows vaccine volume has rebounded from the decrease seen early in the Covid-19 situation, has yet to reach 2019 comparison levels, especially among school aged children and teens. It is important to continue efforts to catch up on vaccinations.

Infants and Toddlers

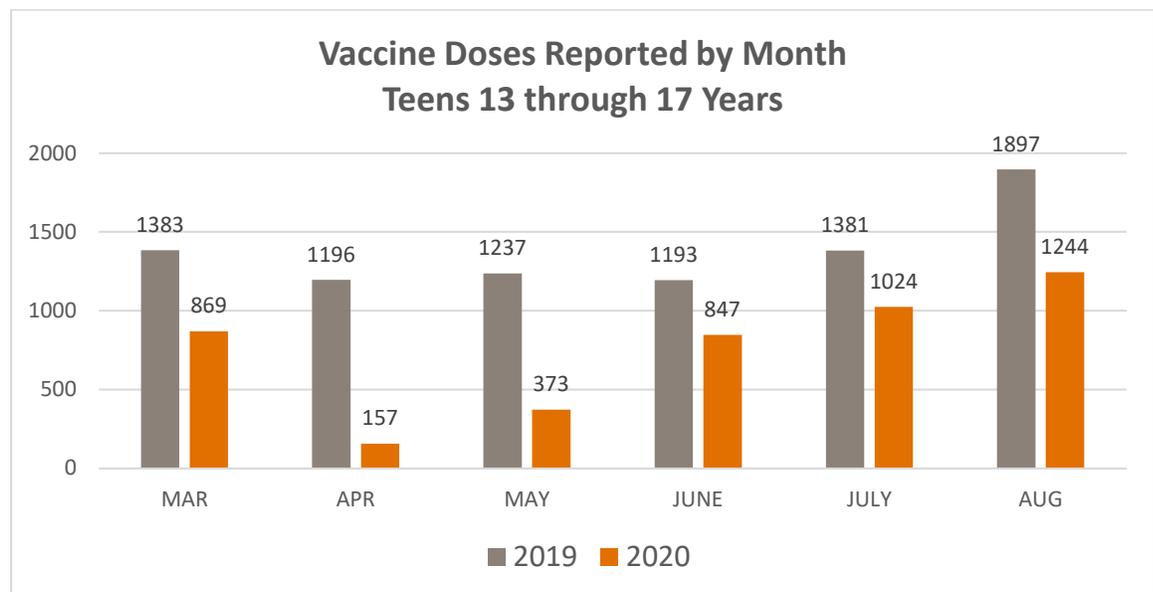

Young Children

Teenagers
