

Rose Gowdey

Rose Gowdey, Community Engagement Liaison for the Opioid Coordination Council and Drug Prevention Policy Director, is an experienced training and organizational development director and consultant. She has provided planning, facilitation and other consulting services to agencies and departments throughout Vermont state government, and among community organizations regionally and nationally. She has also directed two adult training organizations, in Washington D.C. and Vermont. Her work is infused with a commitment to maximizing the strengths of the individuals and communities with whom she works. Rosi is originally from Iowa, and has lived and worked in Des Moines, Washington, D.C., and Vermont.